Budget

Capitol Hill Pride Festivals Income and Expenses

The Northwest Museum of Legends and Lore, the fiscal agent of the first annual Capitol Hill Pride Festival is proud to post the budgets for the 2009 - 2016 festival as the stewards, hosts and organizers of one of Capitol Hill's largest event and the Northwest's largest Pride street festival. A 501(c)3 non-profit, the museum supports the community, cultural arts and the humanities.

Projected expenses for basic permitting and structural set up of the festival averages between $27,000 – 35,000. We need your support, involvement and engagement in one of Seattle's best community events. This event brings a huge return back to not only the restaurants and shops economically but to youth, locals, visitors and increases and supports LGBT awareness.
